A Gross Calumny Refuted.

[From the Independent.]

The charge that President Lincoln indulged in unseemly levity on the battle-field of Antietam—calling for ribald songs and vulgar jokes, in the presence of the wounded, the dying and the unburied dead—has been from time to time repeated, and industriously circulated by the enemies of the Union party, throughout the country. Mr. Horton, late editor of the New York Day Book, has embodied the story in his "Youth's History of the Civil War" (written from the Southern standpoint, to offset a similar work from the Northern point of view, published in Boston); and the Boston Post, of so recent a date as September 28, 1867, referring to a criticism in the New York Tribune upon President Johnson's speech at the Antietam Cemetery ceremonies, says: "Perhaps it," (the Tribune) "would have preferred that Geary or some one else had sung the song which the late lamented President Lincoln sang, when galloping at the head of a party of visitors over the field of battle."

Believing this charge to have been a malignant fabrication, I have long sought for evidence to prove the fact. Very lately, there has providentially come into my hands the most complete and incontestible vindication of Mr. Lincoln's character; and I am now prepared to give the origin and authorship of this calumny.

Its author was Mr. Joseph Scovill, the New York correspondent, during the war, of the London Herald and London Standard, whose letters, over the signature of "Manhattan," will be long remembered by the American public for their virulent disloyalty and perversion of all facts which favored the Northern cause.

Two or three weeks after the battle of Antietam, in one of Mr. Scovill's gossiping London letters, he mentioned the fact of Mr. Lincoln's visit to the battle field, and therein invented and wrote the slander since republished so many times by Mr. Lincoln's enemies. Reference to the newspapers of that date will show that the first time the story was printed in this country it was as an extract from a letter to the London Herald by its New York correspondent "Manhattan."

Mr. E. H. Jenny, a well known citizen of New York City, met Mr. Scovill in Carleton's book store shortly after the publication of the letter containing this charge. He said to him: "Scovill, how came you to write that nonsense to the London press about President Lincoln at Antietam?"

"Why," replied Scovill, "it was [illegible] as a joke. [illegible] he [illegible] ten pounds sterling for that letter. I have to put just such stuff as that in my letters to please such fellows as they are over there."

Mr. Jenny fortunately put this statement in writing soon afterward and has thus on record the very words of the conversation.

Subsequently Scovill wrote a letter to the London Herald pretending to give an account of Gen. Grant's advance toward Richmond; and so grossly misrepresented the battle of Spottsylvania that when the letter came back to this country, as published both in the London Herald and London Standard, General Dix wrote Scovill to consider himself under arrest, and report at his office. Scovill told Gen. Dix that he was very ill, and thought he had not three days to live, and begged not to be sent to Fort Lafayette. General Dix said the matter would be referred to Washington, and in the meantime he must consider himself under arrest. Scovill subsequently exhibited his "order of arrest" to Mr. Jenny at the Controller's office of the city of New York; and in answer to the inquiries as to the nature of the charges against him, said: "My account of Grant's fighting on the Rapidan and at Spottsylvania." When Mr. J. suggested that it might be his slander of Mr. Lincoln at Antietam, instead, he replied: "That was intended only as a joke [illegible] please those fellows over there," reiterating his assertion that the letter containing the fabrication "produced him £10 sterling."

MR. LINCOLN'S LOVE OF MUSIC.

Speaking of music, Mr. Lincoln once said that he had very little knowledge of what he characterized as "scientific" music; but he always detested and enjoyed what he called the "sweet strains" in any description of music. His preference was for simple songs and ballads, like, "Auld Robin Gray," and "Twenty Years Ago." He long sought for music that would convey the sentiment of his favorite poem.

"Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?"

But in this he was never successful. His own recitation of the poem left nothing to be desired.

I remember well his coming down to the "red-room," where there was a piano-forte, with a party of visitors, one morning, in the summer of 1864, to hear one of the number, who was a fine singer, render the stirring hymn, then recently published,

"We are coming, Father Abraham,
Three hundred thousand more."

The singing of this hymn at this time, with its background and accessories—the desolate nation mourning her slain, the flower of the land, yet again responding, [illegible] to the call of her chief; that chief himself sitting with a [illegible], pensive eyes and bowed head, listening as if to catch the voice of the people (his statue might well represent him as ever thus listening)—all together formed a scene unlike to but suggestive of that other scene, immortalized by French artists: the singing for the first time, by Rouget de Lisle, of that grandest of all hymns of liberty—"La Marseillaise."

LINCOLN AND SEYMOUR.

After one of the President's proclamations calling for more men had been apportioned among the different States, Governor Seymour went to Washington to urge upon Mr. Lincoln the reduction of the quota of New York. Early in the day, after his arrival, he sent in his card; but the President surmised his errand, and the day wore away while he gave audience to other callers. At 3 o'clock he ordered the office door to be thrown open and the waiting throng admitted. As they came in, completely filling the room, Mr. Lincoln said, "I will first see Governor Seymour of New York." Governor Seymour went forward and took a seat near the President, and in a low tone stated his errand. Mr. Lincoln sat in silence till he had concluded; then raising his voice so as to be heard by all present, he replied: "When the other Governors of States come here, they come to ask what they can do to help hold up my hands, but you come to ask me to release you from doing what others do cheerfully and with alacrity." Then, taking up a card before him, he turned and said, "I will see Mr. —— next," and thus terminated the interview.

SKINNING THE "CONFEDERACY."

When Grant went to Washington to receive his appointment as Lieutenant-General, he stated to Mr. Lincoln his plan, which was to occupy with the Army of the Potomac the main rebel army in Virginia, while Sherman destroyed the Confederacy.

Mr. Lincoln replied: "I see; you will hold the leg; while Sherman skins."

THE FORGED PROCLAMATION.

Howard, the proclamation forger—a Republican—was pardoned out of Fort Lafayette, while Mallison, his confederate, who was a Democrat, continued incarcerated. A Brooklyn gentleman mentioned the fact to Mr. Lincoln. He was busy at the time, but said very earnestly, "Don't leave the city till I see that;" and at the first leisure moment he wrote and placed in the hands of the gentleman an order for Mallison's unconditional release.

A LAWYER'S OPINION OF LINCOLN.

The Hon. S. M. Cullom, the present Representative of the Springfield District in Congress, a distinguished lawyer of Illinois, once expressed, while Mr. Lincoln was living, this opinion of his distinguished associate:

"Had I an important law case, and desired an opinion in five minutes, I would not value Mr. Lincoln's opinion beyond that of many others, but if Mr. Lincoln had time to give the matter careful consideration, and would then give his opinion, I would rather have it than of any living man. His opinion thus obtained was never broken down in our courts."

M'CULLOCH AND THE BANKERS.

A deputation of bankers from the Eastern cities visited Washington, at the time of the issue of the ten forty loan, and after an interview with Secretary Chase, at the Treasury Department, they were taken over to the White House by Mr. McCulloch, then Controller of the Currency, to be introduced to the President. Mr. Lincoln was writing at his desk by the window of his office as the party entered. Mr. McCulloch went to him, and, leaning over the desk, said: "Mr. President, I wish to introduce to you a number of [illegible] gentlemen who have come to Washington to see about the new loan. As bankers, they are [illegible] to hold our national securities, and I can, therefore, vouch for their loyalty; for you know the good book says, 'Where the treasure is, there will the heart be also.'"

Mr. Lincoln, without looking up, [illegible] replied, "There is another version of that, Mr. McCulloch. The same book says, 'Where the carcass is, there will the eagles be [illegible].'"

[illegible] OF THE [illegible]

The Sentinel has an article on party organization. In remarking how obsequiously the masses of the Democratic party follow their leaders, it says:

No matter what the leaders of the Democracy propose or advocate, negro suffrage, coolie labor, or what is [illegible] absolute slavery—it is only submitted to by the thousands who do the voting, and who only stop to inquire if the measures are "Democratic," and never question their wisdom or weigh their consequences. It is this partisan devotion that makes Democracy strong, and this abject willingness of the many to be the political tools of the few that makes it dangerous. Mental slavery and lack of manly independence are its bulwarks, while free thought and independent intelligence are the weaknesses of republicanism. None are willing to follow, without first knowing that they are right.

We think that the Sentinel will acknowledge that while this spirit of independence is the "weakness," it is in another sense, the strength, of the Republican party.

Referring to the well-known fact that the loyal element of the Democratic party in this State is extremely small, the Eugene Journal says:

The [illegible] have failed in the management of the Democratic party in California, as is manifest in the election of Casserly. But here in Oregon the loyal element of that party constitutes but a very small minority of it, and therefore should the Democrats carry the State it would be nothing more nor less than a "[illegible]" victory. Why men claiming to be loyal and true to the best interests of the country, can consent to allow themselves to be used in a manner to favor the success of a [illegible] of men who have sought the very destruction of the Government, is a matter which should interest the supporters of the Union [illegible] to ascertain. The Union cause needs the assistance and support of every friend of it; and the man who is a Union man, but does not support that cause is certainly not doing justice to his own intelligence.

The Herald touches the subject of "negro equality," which is giving the benighted Democracy so [illegible] in the following manner:

The Herald cannot see why civil rights and political equality won't in [illegible] social equality. Just for the sake of gratifying the gentleman's love of argument we will [illegible] that it would, perhaps, being [illegible] such a result in the case of [illegible] Democrats and [illegible] we will say the least [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible]ination—but does the editor think his intelligence and social standing [illegible] reduced to the common negro standard by the negro's being a voter? Has he a [illegible] of social equality for the ignorant of his own color? Does he deny to the blacks a right to [illegible] to equal, in [illegible] moral, intellectual and social [illegible], the virtues and excellence that pertain to enlightened and Christian civilization? If he does, we have no more to say.

The [illegible] Union has a [illegible] strong article or two in [illegible] From the last number of that paper we take the [illegible] paragraph:

The struggle of to-day is not altogether for to-day; it is for the vast future, also. Our political [illegible] who lately [illegible] for our military [illegible] ask us what are those [illegible] of [illegible] which Congress will not yield up. First and [illegible] is the explosion of the State sup[illegible] the establishment of the fact that the [illegible] has a [illegible] vitality sufficient to protect it as [illegible] domestic as foreign foes. Second, the [illegible] of the observation of the [illegible] law of justice between man and man. Third, the [illegible] of political [illegible] in [illegible] with the majority rule by force when [illegible] fails. These are, in [illegible] the [illegible] of the war, [illegible] patriots' arms have [illegible] and [illegible] our true [illegible] and [illegible] will not [illegible] by unwashed, un[illegible] of the land they owe all allegiance to [illegible]

The [illegible] Journal, in a late [illegible] has an [illegible] on the [illegible] of the lower order of Democratic publications. It says that the manufacture of Democratic proclivities among the [illegible] is too great to be the [illegible] of [illegible] and must be traced to the vicious [illegible] which is imparted by these publications. [illegible] the Journal [illegible]

The [illegible] of this Democratic education is manifest [illegible] in a fearful ratio upon the character and minds over which it has had control for the [illegible] From [illegible] taught in the school of [illegible] [illegible] entirely recruited [illegible] especially these acts arising from a blunted moral sense.

The following is from an appeal to Union men, which is published in the Unionist:

While the [illegible] still lifted up, upon which [illegible] would have [illegible] the Union; while the bones of Union men are yet [illegible] in the [illegible] valleys of [illegible] while the blood hounds still live with which they would have hunted and torn the flesh of the quivering slave; while clotted gore is still festering in the ruins of the slave [illegible]; while the aged octoroon is still searching for the offspring of Democratic lust among the [illegible] children of Slavery, and the foundlings of [illegible]; while the blood of Abraham Lincoln is still resting upon the blade of his Democratic assassin—the good and true patriot, man or woman, can have no fellowship with that party of [illegible] of [illegible], of rebellion and murder, and upon which the fierce rays of divine vengeance have [illegible] scorching and devouring during all the [illegible] and sublime incantations of War.

The editor of the Courier, whose military [illegible] in Washington Territory, was the [illegible] of giving his mind a [illegible] martial cast, continues to talk about war. Hear [illegible] He says in this week's issue:

The dispatches indicate that [illegible] will arrest Grant if he attempts to enforce [illegible] revolutionary [illegible] of Congress, and his [illegible] indicates as much. We should [illegible] any conflict of arms, yet we should [illegible] if [illegible] than a slave, if we would not risk our life to save to our children and their posterity the blessings of a free government.

The idea of A. Johnson talking war, and the Courier [illegible] to back him, is [illegible] better than any burlesque which can be found in half [illegible] almanac.

[illegible] Lands

Wm. E. Smith, County [illegible] of Washington county, who has been sometime engaged in exploring the public lands in that county likely to fall to the Oregon Central Railroad, has made a report of his observations. From this report we learn that the amount of valuable land in that county yet belonging to the General Government, greatly [illegible] the general supposition, both in quantity and quality. Mr. Smith explored the public lands at some four or five different points, going out even beyond the surveys, and his estimate is that the railroad company will get seventy-five thousand acres of land in that county, worth five dollars per acre on completion of twenty miles of road [illegible] $375,000 from only one-third of the land grant on the first twenty miles of road.

Mr. Smith also makes [illegible] estimate of the lands subscribed and donated to the company in that county, estimating each piece [illegible] separately, and makes the aggregate of this class of aid foot up $56,700. This does not include the value of lands at [illegible] and stations, and the [illegible] out of which the company will certainly realize a handsome aid.

These items show the great importance of the city promptly taking hold of the proposition now before the Council. And after the report of the Committee of Seventeen, we cannot see how Portland could explain herself to the people of the valley if this proposition is not favorably acted upon. We [illegible] that every capitalist to whom the petition has been pr[illegible] so far, has promptly sig[illegible] it.

The Virginia "C[illegible]atives," whose proceedings in Con[illegible] were [illegible] by telegraph [illegible] ago, declared on that [illegible] occasion that "no pledge was [illegible] by that State in [illegible]." Here is the doctrine of the "Resolutions of '98," again! And here is a scheme for another profound essay from ancient Beriah!

The Agricultural Department estimates made the yield of wheat in Ohio in 1866, about four bushels per acre; the State statistics, so far as returned, made the yield nearly three bushels! What would Oregon farmers think of such a crop!

FROM THE UPPER COUNTRY.

The papers received are barren of news. We print such items as we are able to find. The Boise Statesman of the 9th says:

There is a report from Silver last night that Gen. Crook has had another fight with the Indians and captured fifteen.

The stage which left here for Silver yesterday morning was obliged to turn back at Snake river, unable to cross in consequence of floating ice. That indicates cold weather and a heavy fall of snow to the north-east of us.

The World of the 11th, contains the following:

Since Tuesday, by all odds, it has been the coldest spell of the season. Wednesday morning, at 7 o'clock, the thermometer marked 12 degrees below zero—the whole day clear and intensely cold. Thursday morning, 7 o'clock, mercury 5 degrees below zero; cloudy, with a clear sky towards 12 M., but froze hard all day, and thermometer 4 degrees below zero at 10 o'clock at night. Yesterday was the coldest day of the Winter. The mercury at 6 o'clock, morning, stood at 14 degrees, and at 8 o'clock, 13 degrees below zero—with very cold weather all day, bright and sunny overhead.

A Chinaman was frozen to death, up Elk creek, a short distance from this city, on last Wednesday night.

The Boise Democrat of the 11th says:

We are informed that the guide, Pickett, with the Indians in the service of Gen. Crook, came upon a band of the unfriendly kind, somewhere on the Owyhee river, a few days ago. He surrounded and attacked them at once, killed one and took sixteen prisoners. We hope the prisoners are not bucks. There is certainly no necessity for sparing full fledged devils.

No Backdown.—Southern rebel leaders have been filling the minds of their dupes with the idea that Congress would [illegible] or materially modify the Reconstruction laws. Hon. Thos. W. Conway, now in New Orleans, wrote to Speaker Colfax on the subject, and received the following explicit letter in reply, which we find in the New Orleans Republican of the 15th December. The vote of the House of Representatives, to adhere to the Reconstruction acts by 112 ayes to 32 noes [illegible] what Mr. Colfax says:

Washington, Dec. 8.—My Dear Mr. Conway: I have but a moment amid multiplied duties to say in reply to your letter that you need not fear that Congress will take any backward steps in reconstruction. We have staked our political existence on the principle that the States lately in rebellion shall be reorganized on the enduring corner stones of loyalty and justice, and shall be led back to their old places in our council halls by those who dared amid the tornado of treason that swept [illegible] the South to stand faithfully for liberty and the Union. While I do not believe in [illegible] anything looking like revenge, and hope to see suffrage as universal as safety to the cause of loyalty will permit, and the restored States guaranteeing education to all, I would not modify the terms of reconstruction in any essential feature one hair's breadth. If the former rulers of the South, whose baffled ambition plunged a peaceful country into the carnage of civil war, refuse to ex[illegible] the right of voting, which Congress proffered to the great bulk of them, on their own heads, not ours, will be the responsibility. Yours very truly,

SCHUYLER COLFAX.

PORT CHARGES—EXPENSIVE TRANSPORTATION.—The high price of transportation on the North Pacific coast is partially accounted for by the reviewer of the San Francisco markets, for the Sacramento Union. In his letter of Jan. 6th, referring to the report of a committee of the Legislature of California appointed to investigate matters connected with port charges at San Francisco, the writer says:

> With reference to the excessive harbor charges, everybody appears to be surprised that such a state of affairs, as is presented by the Committee, could have continued so long without merchants and shipowners making an effort to remedy it. The fact set forth in the report, that a vessel of 1,000 tons entering this port, and remaining for fifteen days to discharge and load, has to pay $1,140 in gold for harbor charges, which, at New York, under similar circumstances, would only be $120 57½ in currency, tells only part of the story why freight is dear and shipping scarce in this harbor. The difference in the port charges alone, is equal to $1 per ton, in gold, on the vessel's freight, and this cost is levied upon the producing classes of the State, being equal to a tax of five cents on every sack of wheat exported. I do not think that importers are as ignorant on this subject as they desire to appear. I, in a very humble way, it is true, have been calling their attention to this subject for years, have discussed it with many of them personally, they generally agreeing with my views, as expressed through the columns of the Union, and other papers; but thought it best to let the [illegible] remain as they are. The Committee of the Legislature thinks otherwise. The Union inaugurated this movement for the reduction of the port charges, which, if not defeated, by the moneyed interest, will be of immense advantage to the State.

FIRE.—The house occupied by Mr. Ira Mayfield, on Washington street, adjoining No. 3's Engine House, was discovered to be on fire at about eight o'clock last evening. An alarm brought out the [illegible] and the fire was soon extinguished, the damage amounting altogether to probably about $100, most of which resulted from flooding the premises with water. The fire originated, unmistakably, in a clothes press in the kitchen or rear room, and must have been the work of an incendiary, as the place was not less than ten or twelve feet from any stove-pipe or flue, it being evident that the fire did not come from either. In the debris of the clothes press the remains of a carpet sack, in which an old vest had been put, were found, and on this circumstance somebody started the theory that there might have been matches in the pocket, and that they might have been lighted by spontaneous combustion or by the gnawing of a rat. The theory, however, is not a brilliant one, as the vest had not been worn for at least five years, and had been lying out in the woodshed in the wet the greatest part of the winter. It is probable the same [illegible] who entered the house the night before at the kitchen door, and beat [illegible] upon the [illegible] of the inmates, returned last evening and set the clothes in the press on fire. This is the more probable, as the persons in the front room say that a few minutes before the fire was discovered, they had heard a noise in the kitchen, as if some one had stumbled [illegible] a stick of wood. Upon [illegible] [illegible] was found on the floor near the door. It is [illegible] the incendiary [illegible] making the [illegible].

CHINESE NEW YEAR.—To-day is the [illegible] of the Chinese New Year, and the day will be celebrated among the Celestials with fire crackers, devotional exercises, [illegible], prayers to Josh and other good and evil spirits, burning tapers and other sacrificial bits of paper, [illegible], visiting and "pomp and circumstance" generally. Preparations have been [illegible] for some time in anticipation of the day and it is expected that all Chinadom will be agog with excitement and "jollity." Consulting an authority, we find that the name of the month [illegible] to-day is, in Chinese, Ying Ching Yuet. Reckoning [illegible] one year, 1868, into Chinese it is, yat tsun pat [illegible]. The anniversary occurred last year on our 4th of February. The only reason we know of why it does not occur on the same day this year is that as the [illegible] unlike the [illegible] race they find it [illegible] to make their year of the same length as ours. However, their years are long enough for all [illegible]. During to-day the Chinese gentlemen [illegible] will [illegible] all their friends to call and dine or drink tea with them. People of fastidious tastes and stomachs will find, however, that a small [illegible] of dining will go a great ways.

SALEM.—We learn that the telegraph operator at Salem has been getting excited about our item of day before yesterday, under the head of "[illegible] of the Telegraph." We are sorry that anybody should think it worth while to be angry at the publication of a simply amusing [illegible]; but it seems that everybody, (except [illegible] paper folks), have exceedingly tender corns and that it is quite impossible to take a step in any direction without danger of plumping our great, awkward feet down on somebody's pet sore toe. Mr. Thatcher sends us word that the dispatch referred to in the item was received [illegible], and the [illegible] was in [illegible] in that respect, and this [illegible] the [illegible] out of blame. But, suppose it had been received [illegible], it was an error which anybody might have made without putting himself in danger of being stoned to death; or the blunder might have been committed by the operator sending the dispatch. What we most want to know is, what was the use, in either case, for anybody to get excited about the mention of the [illegible]?

THAT ARRIVAL.—Messrs. Goodwin and Weidler, last evening, informed us that a messenger had arrived from Astoria—a Mr. Hicklin, who lives some eight or nine miles from this city—with a letter from the Captain of the Oriflamme to Mr. Weidler. Mr. Goodwin says he [illegible] with the man and learned from him that he came [illegible] by the [illegible] that she arrived at Astoria on Friday, the 10th inst., and was still lying at the wharf when he left; he left Astoria on the following [illegible], the 13th, by the military road, thinking he could get through in three days; that the road, on the mountains, was so filled with snow and fallen timber that he could make but slow headway, some days being able to [illegible] only six to nine miles. He relates that he travelled one day from daylight till dark and only made eight or nine miles, during which time he climbed over 180 large fallen trees. It is probable that the messengers despatched from this city last Sunday have arrived at Astoria by this time and that the Oriflamme will [illegible] safely for San Francisco.

[illegible].—At Oregon City the river, from the upper [illegible] foot of the [illegible] is jammed full of ice to the depth of eight or ten feet, as estimated by the [illegible] and Rock Island is piled [illegible]. This being so, connection between upper and lower river, boats is, of course, impracticable, and consequently the effort to open a channel [illegible] Portland and Oregon City has been suspended for the present, as [illegible]. On Saturday, however, the Alert will start at 9 o'clock A. M. from Stevens' Point and go to the old [illegible] at the lower end of Oregon City, taking [illegible]. On that day an attempt will be made to open a channel to Rock Island, and if [illegible] fail, the Alert will return to the [illegible] of opening a channel to this city. That is how the prospect [illegible] at present, for the reopening of communication by steamer with the upper Willamette valley.

JURORS FOR THE NEXT TERM OF COURT.—The following is a list of the jurors drawn for the next term of the Circuit Court for Multnomah county, which will convene on the 10th of February: Wm. Currier, [illegible] Chatfield, Edward Cahalin, Jacob S. Millott, George V. James, James Swafford, J. H. Wallace, C. P. Bacon, Wm. Pettar, [illegible], Joseph Mann, Arthur Mallon, Robt. Brotherton, Sam'l Brown, Jas. S. [illegible], [illegible], Wm. Crowin, [illegible] Fitch, [illegible], A. Kelly, Jacob Johnson, A. C. Dunbar, D. F. Buxton, Isaac Williams, John W. Wilson, F. O. Hicklin, S. K. Holmes, —— Johnson, John Foster and [illegible] Kennedy.

THE SOUTH PORTLAND LAKE.—The announcement that the "[illegible]" would be out [illegible] yesterday afternoon, brought out a tremendous crowd at the South Portland Lake. The [illegible] a very few of them—the ice was in [illegible] the sun shone most pleasantly, everybody was in good humor and everything was lovely. It is estimated that there were not less than five hundred people on the ice at one time, and perhaps near a thousand visited it during the day. The grotesque costumes of the members of the ancient order, and their antics were sources of vast amusement to the spectators.

EXPRESS AND MAILS FROM THE DALLES.—Mr. T. H. Cann, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger, and Mr. Blakeny, mail carrier, arrived from the Dalles late last evening, having been on the road since Tuesday morning. Mr. Cann brought three thousand letters with a large express of papers and other matter. Mr. Blakeny brought in the mails four thousand letters. Both these messengers were too much fatigued with the journey to wait for much questioning as to the news; but all the important items will be found in our columns, copied from the exchanges, for the delivery of which we are indebted to the kindness of Mr. Cann.

SEEKING AMUSEMENT UNDER DIFFICULTIES.—A little the hardest case of seeking amusement under difficulties that we ever heard of, was that of the hombres who were caught at two o'clock one morning, astride of a bench in the street, while the mercury was several degrees below the freezing point, matching half dollars; one of the parties striking a lucifer at each throw to ascertain which was the winner. The places of "resort" had been closed on them; but they were not to be discouraged by trifles.

VALIDITY OF THE SPECIFIC CONTRACT LAW.—In the Circuit Court, yesterday, in the case of J. McHenry vs. Chauncey Hall, application for a writ of mandamus, the question of the validity of the Specific Contract law was distinctly raised and argued by W. Lair Hill against the validity of the law, and J. N. Dolph in support of it. The court, Judge Upton, held the law valid and denied the writ of mandamus. We are informed that the case will be taken to the supreme court.

THE TELEGRAPH.—The line was down yesterday south of Shasta. A gale of wind was blowing. From one place a gang of repairers went out and mended all the breaks as they went. In a short time another gang followed and overtook the first, having mended nine breaks which had occurred subsequent to the passage of the advance party. From this, some idea may be gained of the difficulties of [illegible] the line in working order.

MARSHAL'S SALE.—Marshal [illegible] is in possession of warrants ordering him to sell at public auction, lot 6 in block 177 and the west half of lot 7 and west half of lot 8 in block 178, for the purpose of making the assessments levied on the same for the improvement of Alder street. The sale will take place at the Court House door on the 21st day of February.

ASSESSMENTS DUE.—The assessments on lots and blocks fronting on Third street, levied by ordinance No. [illegible], for the improvement of the street, are now due. They amount in the aggregate to $4,410. If not paid on or before the 6th of February, the costs of collection will be added.

THE HONORABUSQUES AGAIN.—The Honorbusques will be out, in force, at the upper lake at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon—this time, without fail, it is said.

VAGRANT ARRESTED.—The bummer who has been around lately begging half dollars, quarters, bits, etc., to get drunk on, was arrested yesterday and lodged in the jail to await the action of the Recorder on a charge against him of vagrancy. His name is given as Van Tassel.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—In consequence of the continued illness of Mr. Boland, the members of the Philharmonic Society will meet for rehearsal this evening in the basement of the Presbyterian Church.

Political Railroad Meeting at Jacksonville.

They had a railroad meeting at Jacksonville some days ago which took a political turn. A short time since we received a letter from that place giving what purported to be an account of the matter; but as the letter was anonymously written, we could take no notice of it. We find the following article on the subject in the Sentinel of the 18th:

> The ostensible purpose of the meeting was to facilitate the construction of a railroad through this and Umpqua valleys; its real purpose was for political ends, and mainly to further the schemes of a few little Democratic office seekers. It has been openly stated on the street by Democrats, that its only object was to place certain prominent Republicans, and the Republican press of Southern Oregon, in a false position on the railroad issue, and we must say that it has been a most contemptible failure. The meeting was an adjourned one. A committee had been appointed. Public interest had been awakened, and a large number of persons were anxiously awaiting a report likely to advance the common interests, but were woefully deceived. For two long weeks their committee had suffered the pangs of maternity, and like the mountain in labor, they brought forth not one little mouse, but a whole litter of the scrawniest little things ever dignified by the name of resolutions, covered with the scabs of personal malice, and intended to commit our community to a narrow and foolish policy. The foisting of these puny and unworthy resolutions on our delegation in Congress, and our friends abroad, as the expression of any respectable portion of the people of this county, is an injustice we will not permit. At one time a large number of our influential citizens were present, but were so supremely disgusted at the resolutions and the apparent object of those who presented them, that their stay was short. When the resolutions were passed, it was by a small majority of about fourteen persons, comprising the political manipulators of the meeting, and their strikers. There are the real facts in the case, and it will probably be some time ere our people will again assemble to be made "cats-paws" and fools of. We have had a surfeit of such meetings; and if this community does not desire to be placed in a false and ridiculous position, and made the laughing stock of the State, they will come to the same conclusion.

The "Fat Contributor" of the Philadelphia Telegraph has a criticism on Macbeth. He begins with an important item of historical information. "Macbeth," says he, "was a Highlander, from Highland county, Ohio."

Goethe, Schiller, Herder, and all the other German authors who died before 1837, are now free booty for all freebooters, the copyright of all of them having just expired.

The Courier says that Standley's flouring mill at Lafayette has commenced to run.

CAPITOL, OLYMPIA, Dec. 11th, 1867.

DR. GROSS, Portland—Sir: I have been in the habit of using the "HENLEY ROYAL BALSAM" in my family, who reside at Wallula, Walla Walla county, W. T. I am now at Olympia, attending the present session of the Legislature, and the climate is so different from that of Walla Walla county that I have taken cold, and I have endeavored to purchase some of the medicine here but was unable to do so. Please send a bottle up immediately by mail. I have used nothing else in my family and cannot get along without it. Yours truly,

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS RESTORED by HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

MARTIN LUTHER once thought he saw the devil in his chamber, and threw an inkstand at his head. Had they had in those days AYER'S PILLS to exorcise all the devils that come from a disordered stomach, his [illegible] fright would not have become a matter of history.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU gives health and vigor to the frame and bloom to the pallid cheek. Debility is accompanied by many alarming symptoms, and if no treatment is submitted to, consumption, insanity, or epileptic fits ensue.

Harmonic Lodge No. 15, I. O. O. F.—Meets every Friday evening at 7 o'clock, in Stark's building, third story opposite Arrigoni's Hotel. Members of the order are invited to attend. By order of N. G.
Jan. 1, 1867. dtf

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS should be in the possession of everybody in the mining region. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold-hunter is liable, it has no superior. While it is quite palatable even as a beverage, it is speedy and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of diarrhea, dysentery and the prevailing fevers consequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the exposed life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation, fail to have recourse to the Bitters.—Sold by all druggists and dealers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

Is a certain cure for diseases of the BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, DROPSY, ORGANIC WEAKNESS, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, GENERAL DEBILITY, and all diseases of the URINARY ORGANS,

whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the HEALTH AND HAPPINESS, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Established upwards of 18 years, prepared by

DR. C. W. COOL,

DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has received, December 3d, 1867, a patent from the United States Patent Office. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in these far off places by its merits.

TAKE NO MORE UNPLEASANT AND UNSAFE REMEDIES for unpleasant and dangerous diseases. Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH.

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them, to receive a First-Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

THE ALABAMA CONVENTION—THE WORK OF JOHN GUTTLE, JR.

MONTGOMERY, (Ala.), Dec. 1, 1867.

It is possible that this world may continyoo to be, that the 'heavenly orbs may continyoo to [illegible] and more in [illegible] cycles into their respective spheres in [illegible] its time the space assigned em in the [illegible] economy in celestyal space, but I doubt it. If sich a [illegible] orginizashen as I am now witnessin [illegible] that order wich is Heaven's first law, all I can say is, nacher is so constituted ez [illegible] is uv no ordinary magnitood. I [illegible] in Montgomery, in attendance, as a looker-on in [illegible] uv the "sassiety [illegible] convenshen," ez [illegible] this [illegible] town. It was curiosity wich brot me hither. I hed heard [illegible] piebald [illegible] uv this black and tan [illegible], in wich niggers and white men—niggers in wich the white blood predominated, and white men in wich the nigger blood predominated—was gathered and settin side by side, the same ez tho the Lord hed never cust Ham, and ez tho the nigger was not a beast, and not our inferior at all. [illegible] I said to myself,

That I wuz ever born to set em rite."

FIRASTAMAN'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows: [illegible] where the [illegible] is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the [illegible] of its discoverer [illegible] were not [illegible] beyond the limited [illegible] in which, however, it proved itself absolutely [illegible] from the eyes.

He immigrated to this [illegible] with him; but [illegible] to have been [illegible] to the property of [illegible] and [illegible] circulation, and, as [illegible] by his native [illegible] only desirous of using it [illegible]

The present proprietor was one of [illegible] and for many years [illegible] and, after [illegible] the inventor to more widely [illegible] the knowledge of its virtues, finally [illegible] of the [illegible] of its preparation.

And now, [illegible] he does not deny that he hopes [illegible] by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to [illegible] by [illegible] to them a remedy which does and will [illegible] medical art has and all [illegible] have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its success that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVEN[illegible] YEARS' STANDING, [illegible] of which [illegible] the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

MRS. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

M. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garat & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes [illegible] for over fifteen years.

ROBERT RAMPEY and W. D. PORTER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. B. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT!

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING PURCHASED the "UNION BOOK & JOB PRINTING OFFICE," of T. F McElroy, propose to issue a Weekly Newspaper at Olympia, W. T., on or about the 1st of December next, to be called THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT.

The paper will be devoted to the Agricultural, Mechanical, Commercial, Mineral, Moral and Political interests of the whole Territory.

In Politics we shall uphold and sustain the Union Principles of the Nation, at the same time reserving the right to be INDEPENDENT on all subjects, that we may be better able to discuss all matters in their true light, and give credit wherever it is due.

We trust our friends will circulate this prospectus generally, and assist us in getting a good list of Subscribers, Advertisements, or Job Work. We also invite correspondence from all sections of the Territory.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT will be issued every Saturday, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Hoping to receive a share of public favor, we unfurl our banner to the breeze.

CARD.

DR BARLOW J SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, [illegible]

Look at their pallid, haggard and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, [illegible] them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies, [illegible] they are buried for and saved before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his [illegible] study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious [illegible] It is [illegible] to those who are afflicted, or to those who are [illegible] in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of [illegible] from [illegible] and other places. Be [illegible] and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of [illegible] This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, [illegible] flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, [illegible] night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be [illegible] should apply [illegible] or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of [illegible] a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering [illegible] any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicine, may rely upon his [illegible] of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and [illegible] no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory [illegible] for services [illegible] considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of [illegible] among quacks and pretenders.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE!

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidious strain the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has [illegible] so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon so uninviting a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital [illegible] of life, the ignorant may asperse my motive; but the desire to point out to those who suffer, languish and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] is too great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. How extended the terrible disease of [illegible] Weakness is, no one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to its treatment can tell, but [illegible] can be detected by the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs; languid feelings, loss of muscular power, nervousness; irritability; cold feet or hands, aches [illegible] by hot head; symptoms of a consumption; short breath; [illegible] of the face; aversion to society; confusion of the mind, loss of memory; nightly emissions; colorless; slight discharges upon the least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the heart; irregular appetite; variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the various symptoms as [illegible] above, pause to consider. The present is the golden moment in which you may secure health and happiness. You may feel strong now, but if you have ever practiced the vice of self-abuse even in the [illegible], you have the seeds of [illegible] in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, sink the fair edifice of your strength to the ground. [illegible] It is a disease that [illegible] itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger; for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible [illegible] Weakness.

See in the best form and languishing steps, the poor victim of the fascinating vice! Mark the [illegible] of the [illegible] complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye!

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms. At first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually into a great disinclination to pursue his [illegible] The mind becomes [illegible] and restless [illegible] days of [illegible]

It is the nature of the [illegible] and changes that leave the poor victim but little [illegible] of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your fond hopes and blast your [illegible]

Marriage is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system, unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a deplorable condition, from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible] Or if the marriage [illegible] result in offspring, they are puny, [illegible] and [illegible] This is applicable to both sexes, whether [illegible] or single, and to all [illegible] of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of the terrible [illegible] or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by [illegible] application [illegible] the only hope of health and happiness. The [illegible] no mercury or other deleterious drugs, [illegible] taken in time, always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] vigor restored.

The afflicted are assured of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENERAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute, the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated, show a record unsurpassed by any hospital in the world, and the [illegible] that has invariably marked the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only uncalled for, but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] established [illegible] that the [illegible] by entering the blood, ruin the constitution and destroy life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases, in a few days, and finds no difficulty in curing those of long duration without subjecting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether it is [illegible] The diet need not be changed. Cures always [illegible] or no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, and requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry should be, "Where is there a physician competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community?" The Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to [illegible] and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous or designing. Therefore, families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed—consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided, when desired, where can be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor, and the most skillful and and faithful nurses.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To [illegible] would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence, and either be returned or destroyed.

Consultation Free.
